
and had to do a upgrade and it wouldn't let me connect via adb. Did anyone have the same problem and figured it out? A: For anyone else who is stuck in the same situation, the solution is to upgrade adb from 1.0.29 to 1.0.32. This can be done by:

- Uninstall adb
- Replace all config files related to adb in `/etc/` and `~/.android/` with the ones from the.zip file that was downloaded when the adb package was installed. If you don't have this you can download it here.
- Start adb and install/update the adb package.
- Start adb and install/update the adb package.

Note that if you have 2 or more devices connected you need to disconnect them before step 5.
